

Love or Hate Email... 21 Rules to Change Your - I Must Check my Email Habit. Get Back to Work and Make Money Again! (Email on Kindle, Email writing, Email ... email reader, email kindle, email us)

Last updated on 3/6/2016 Say Good Bye to the I Must Check Email Habit. Love or Hate Email Are you guilty of checking your Email every other five or ten minutes? Are you always feeling the strong urge to reply to Emails the moment you set your eyes on them? It may not have occurred to you but you have unfortunately transformed into an Email Junkie, just like most people who have their own Email accounts. As a matter of fact, a typical Email user is said to spend on average 36 times checking their Email an hour. Well, that is an awful lot of time gone to waste and probably a lot of money that could have been generated during that time. Why quit the habit? Because the more time you spend checking for new Emails, the less time you have to do more productive things. Yes, you can blame it on social media sites like Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, and even online gaming sites that seem to take pleasure in sending updates and notifications to you in your Emails. Just imagine how your inbox would look like after you post a picture on Facebook which generates more than 20 likes. If you are too busy accessing your Emails, managing your Inbox, and Email Writing, how in the world can you ever be on top of your game? You see, by being able to use your time wisely, you will be able to do better work in less time. And this could even spell the difference between getting comfortable and being promoted at work. Think about the opportunity to earn more by being able to maximize your time rather than wasting it scrolling your inbox more often than you blink your eyes. Think too about this time you could have used instead to be with your family and friends rather than spending it in front of your monitor. So yes, you do need to ditch the habit of being an Email Junkie and learn the best way of Email Management. How do you ditch the habit? Let this E-book, Love or Hate Email... show you how in
