

For the Love of Animals

It is sickening what people do to animals they claim to love. Who knows how many cases go unreported. People should treat animals the way they would want to be treated. I don't think Vince would like to be chained up with a shackle around his ankle, but ironically that's probably what will happen to him to escort him to jail. We unfortunately see cases like this all too often. Sometimes I just rescue puppies or kittens that are hiding under junk cars or trailers so they don't die from the heat or starvation, to protect them from being hit by a car. Sometimes I seize cats and dogs from animal hoarders. The animals suffer because the people have too many animals to give them all the Vet care is required. They are well meaning, but their desperation for unconditional love is how people become hoarders. If two dogs are good; than twenty are better. In most cases, they are willing to surrender the animals because they really do want what's best for the animals.
