The ocean holds millions of species, and some of those creatures are the stuff of legends. Niall Karter is a Nixie prince, a merman, one of nearly a hundred sons of the king of the Briny Nix. He's sent to walk on dry land to ascertain the threat of an offshore oil drilling company looking for possible drilling sites in the ocean near his father's kingdom. Inside the lobby, Niall is nearly run over by Carlye Layton, who he discovers is not only the woman heading up the oceanology research for the company, she's his Adelfi Psychi, his soul mate. Unfortunately, he realizes that where Carlye's company plans to drill is far too close to his people's home for safety, and he must find a way to stop their plans. Can Niall figure out a way to win Carlye's heart and still save his people? Or will Carlye turn her back on him for using her for information?
