

The Green Road Home: Adventures and Misadventures as a Caddie on the PGA Tour

Today Michael Bamberger is one of the top sportswriters in the world, but twenty years ago, at the tender age of twenty-four, he reached the summit of another fieldprofessional golf. He set no course records, made no monstrous putts, and no television cameras followed him around. But the writer received a golf education most fans only dream about: He spent six months caddying on the PGA Tour. Part sports book, part travel-adventure, The Green Road Home is the book that launched Bambergers career. For six months he carried the bags of some of the games finest, most promising, and most colorful characters from legends such as Al Geiberger (Mr. 59) and George Archer, to up-and-comers like Brad Faxon and Steve Elkington in tournaments ranging from the Byron Nelson Classic to the British Open to the PGA Championship. The Green Road Home is an entertaining and insightful behind-the-scenes account of days and nights on the PGA Tour; a true classic of sports writing.
